

Countdown
to

MOVE-IN DAY

It's almost time for you—our newest Bulldogs—to move into your new home away from home.

Some of your best relationships will begin right here and we can't wait to welcome you to campus!

Both Irvington House and Residential College (ResCo) offer a variety of social and study spaces for you to explore along with amenities that will make your time at Butler feel more like home.

What to Bring

- › Twin XL sheets, bedding
- › Bath towels, wash clothes, shower curtain
- › Clothing and any personal items
- › Mini fridge (no more than 2.5 amps)
- › Cleaning supplies and laundry detergent
- › Basic medication and any prescriptions
- › School supplies
- › Command strips

What to Leave Behind

- › Toaster, toaster oven, air fryer, microwave
- › LED strip lights
- › Plug-in string lights
- › Nails, screws, wall tacks, or anything that will damage a wall
- › Candles or plug-in air fresheners
- › Weapons, alcohol, vapes, and e-cigarettes
- › Amplifiers
- › Pets (only freshwater fish permitted)

Please note: Only one car will be permitted in the move-in line, so please pack your vehicle appropriately. Each room space is numbered; move into your assigned side of the room.

WHAT TO EXPECT LIVING ON CAMPUS

Unit Meetings

Your unit is a small group of people who share the same residential community as you do. Your first meeting will be on your first night at Butler.

Resident Assistants

A Resident Assistant (RA) is a peer leader who is here to serve as a resource and point of contact for personal, social, and academic concerns during the year.

Faculty-in-Residence

ResCo has four resident faculty members and Irvington has two resident faculty members who live in the building and are committed to learning outside of the classroom. Make sure to say hello and check out their events!

Programs and Events

We're excited to help you build a community here at Butler. Programs and events will occur all year long and are fun ways to connect with other people in your unit, hall, or campus wide.

Roommate Agreement

Living and communicating with others is a skill. You and your roommates will discuss personal values and create a shared set of expectations for your living space.
